Disability Case Manager/Job Development – WorkBC Employment Services Program Works from our Sooke and Westshore offices, 35.0 – 37.5 hours per week, Monday to Friday

About WorkLink:

WorkLink has been providing government sponsored employment services to the residents of the Westshore since 1978. In 2008, our services expanded to include the communities of Sooke and surrounding areas including Jordan River and Port Renfrew. We are also pleased to provide aboriginal outreach services to the First Nations Communities of Beecher Bay, T'Souke and Pacheedaht. Our non-profit organization, governed by a volunteer Board of Directors chosen from leaders in the community, is funded through a variety of federal and provincial government initiatives.

About the Program:

The WorkBC Employment Services Contract, provides services as part of the WorkBC Employment Services program and includes service awareness and marketing activities, as well as service delivery to Clients located in all communities in BC either in-person, via outreach or virtually. The purpose of the WorkBC Employment Services program is to provide employment and labour market services and supports to individuals, employers and communities to achieve the following outcomes: Clients become more independent through sustainable employment; and to contribute to an inclusive and progressive economy by helping employers and communities develop a strong work force.

About the Position:

The Case Manager plays a crucial role in services directly to all eligible clients. Case Management is a collaborative process between a Case Manager and a Client. A Client's acceptance into Case Management is determined through a Formal Needs Assessment. The process of Case Management involves developing a positive relationship with the Client, encouraging, motivating and supporting the Client to achieve an outcome and increase independence and self-sufficiency as quickly as possible as appropriate for each Client. Key factors in Case Management include helping Clients build confidence, become self-motivated and recognize and build their skills, strengths and abilities. Case Management involves opening and managing a WorkBC Employment Services client case file, documenting client processes and tracking and recording client progress and results in the Province's ICM and in-house tracking systems. Ensure all service delivery channels are utilized in their roles: Centres; Outreach; and WorkBC Virtual. The Case Manager must ensure that all clients will have access to high quality services, for which Ministry Policy will be applied, in the same way, regardless of where and how services are accessed.
